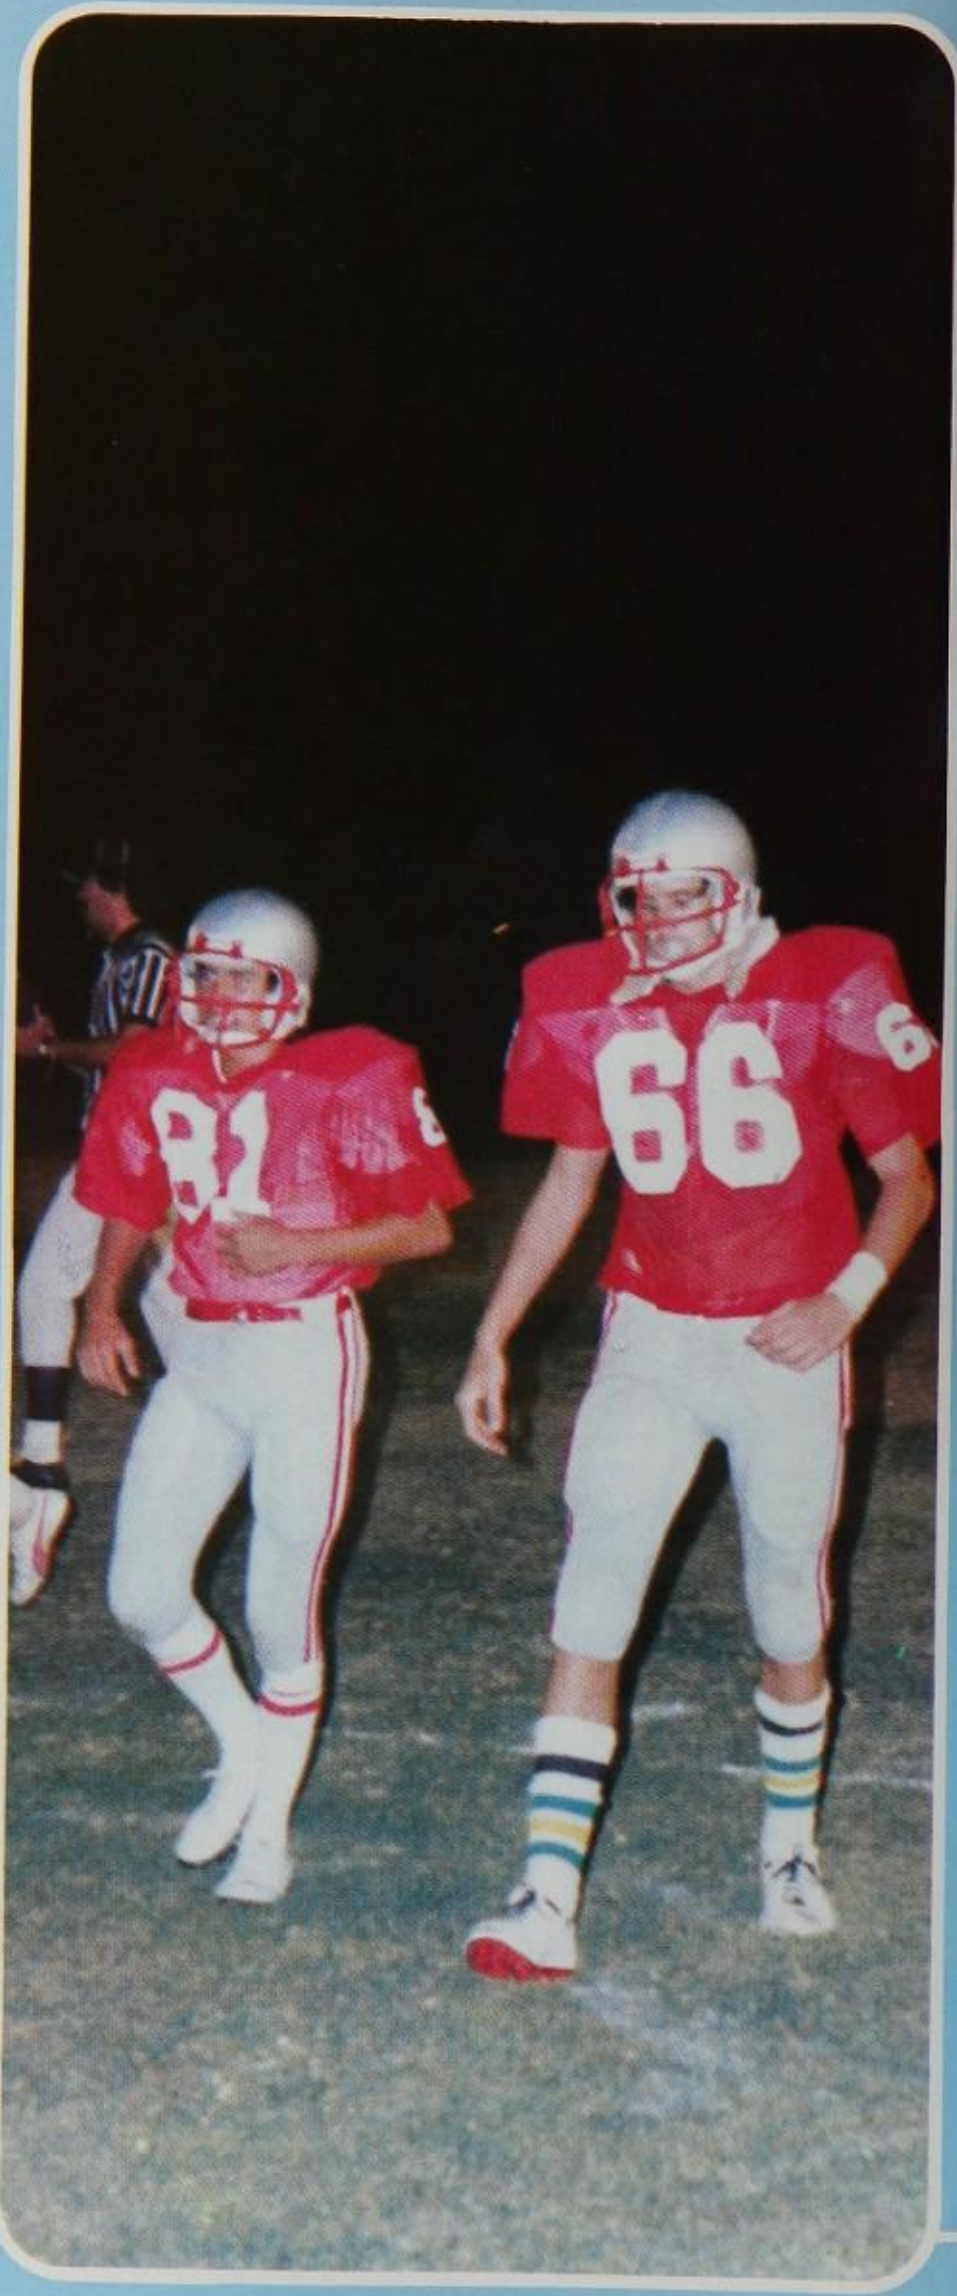
Beyond The New Horizon

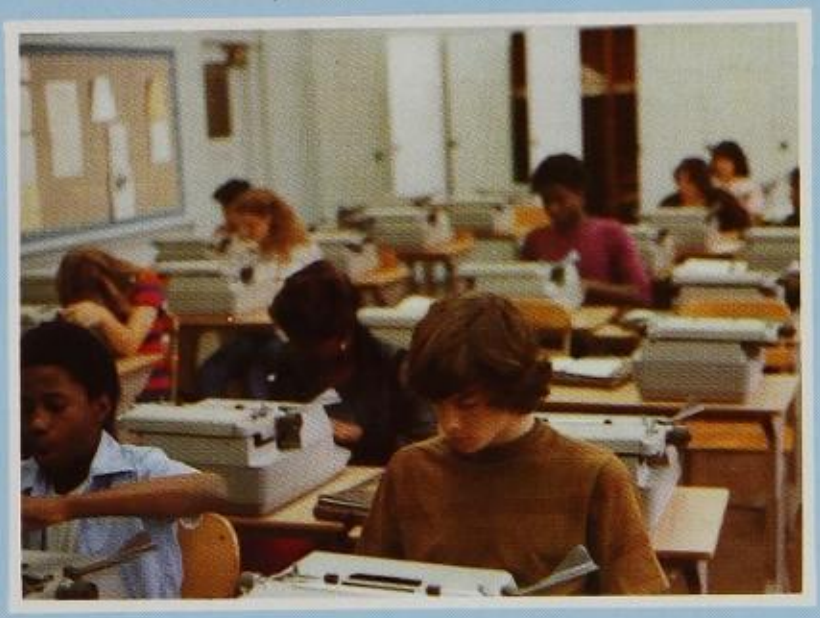
"The first range of hills that encircles the scanty vale of human life is the horizon for the majority of its inhabitants." — Coleridge

Our first mountain range is the receipt of our high school diploma; however once we cross our horizons, the valleys branch into many different trails.

For some of us the trails might lead to a career in professional football; and for others it may be the glamour of a career in acting. Or, for some, our trails might lead to a musical career, and for still others, a career in art.

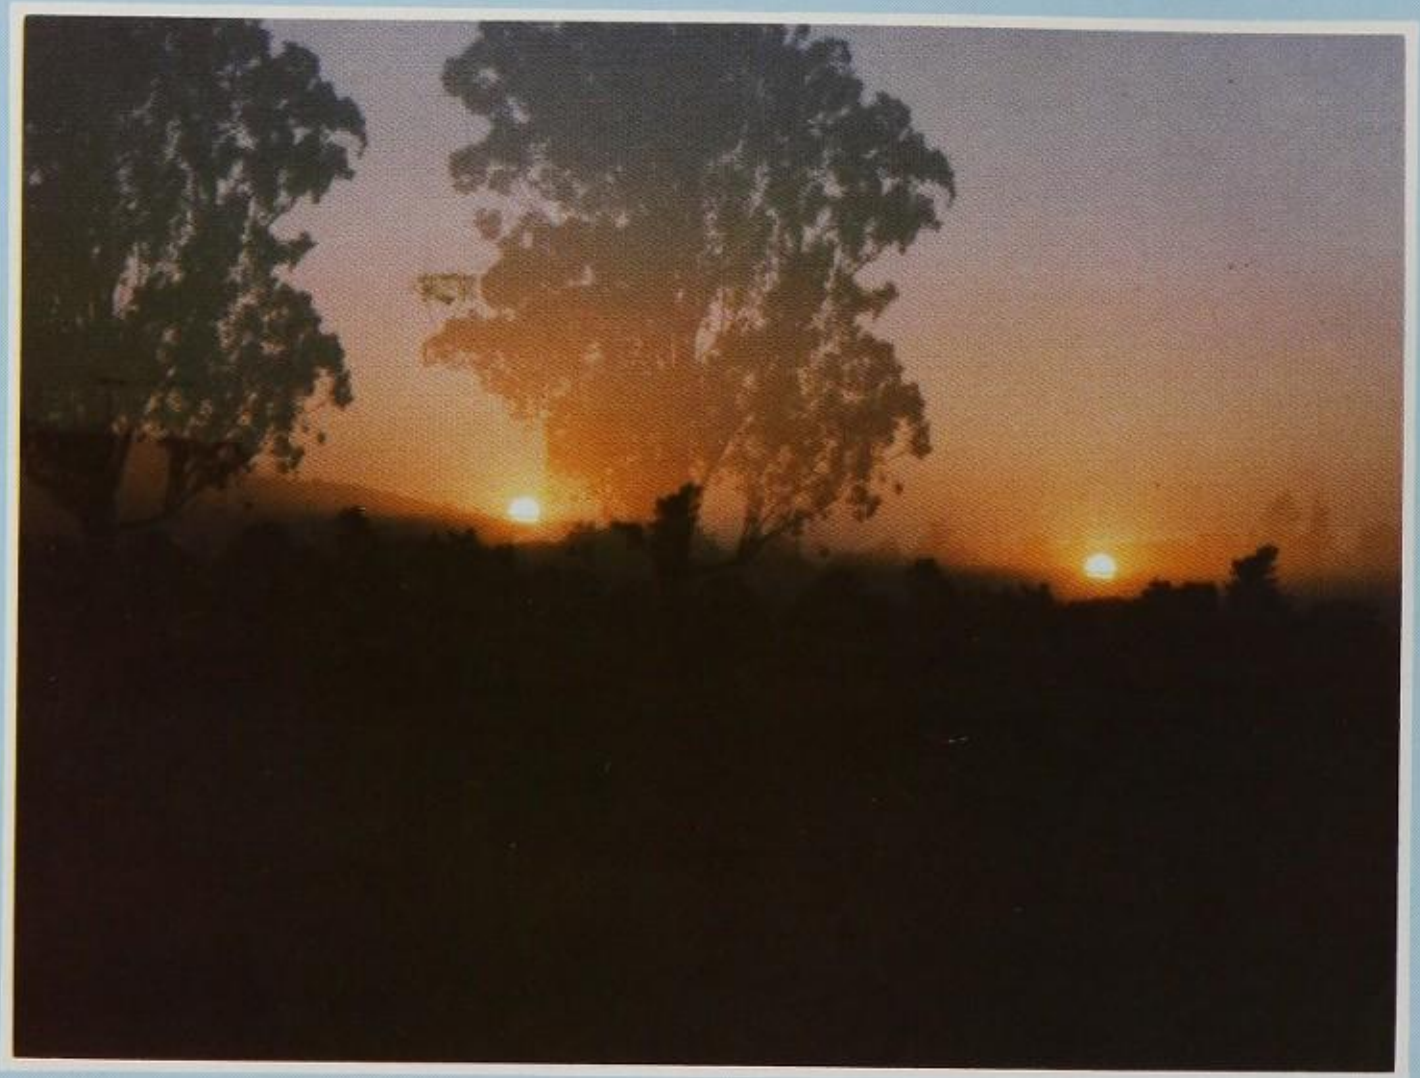
It is evident that our trails branch out in various directions but they all meet once again in the valley of success.

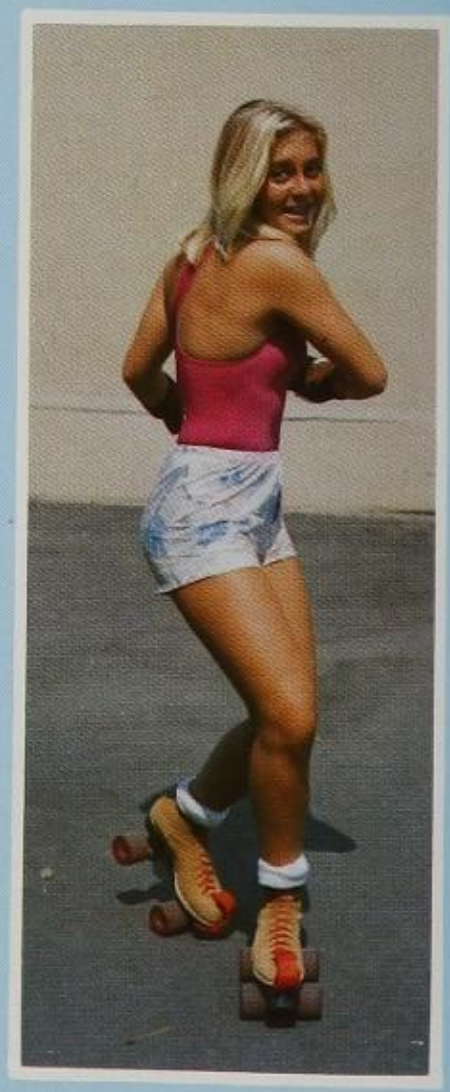


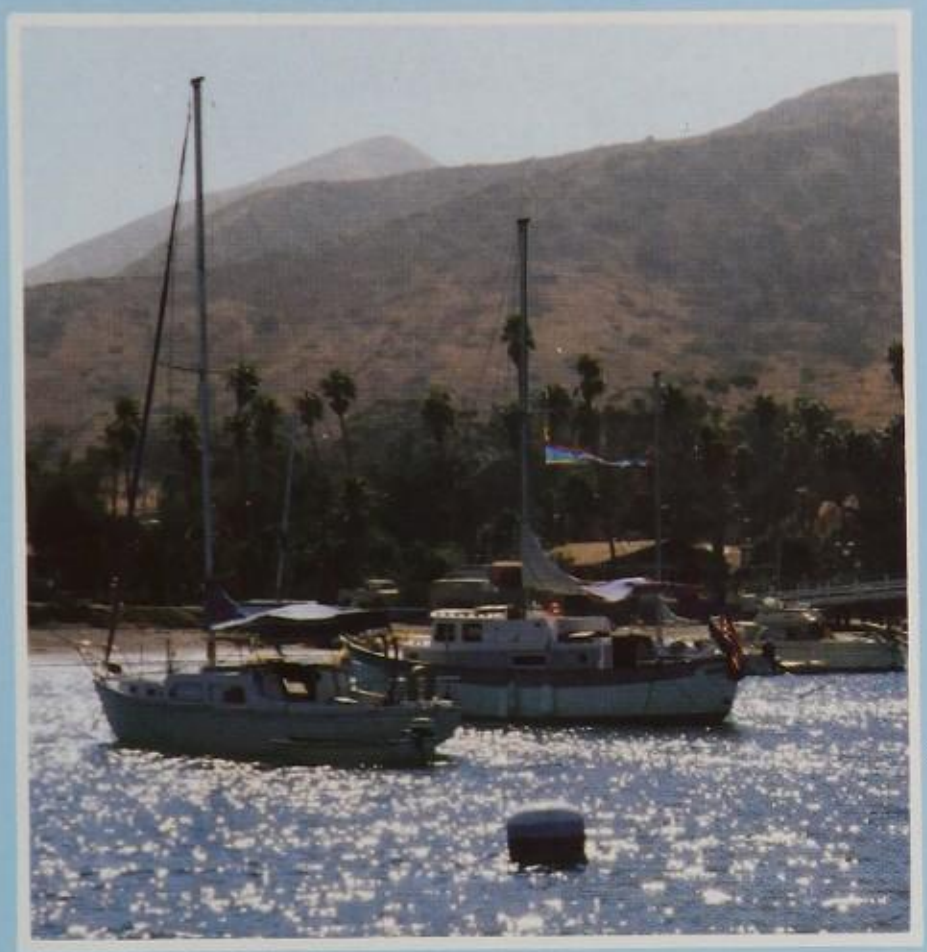


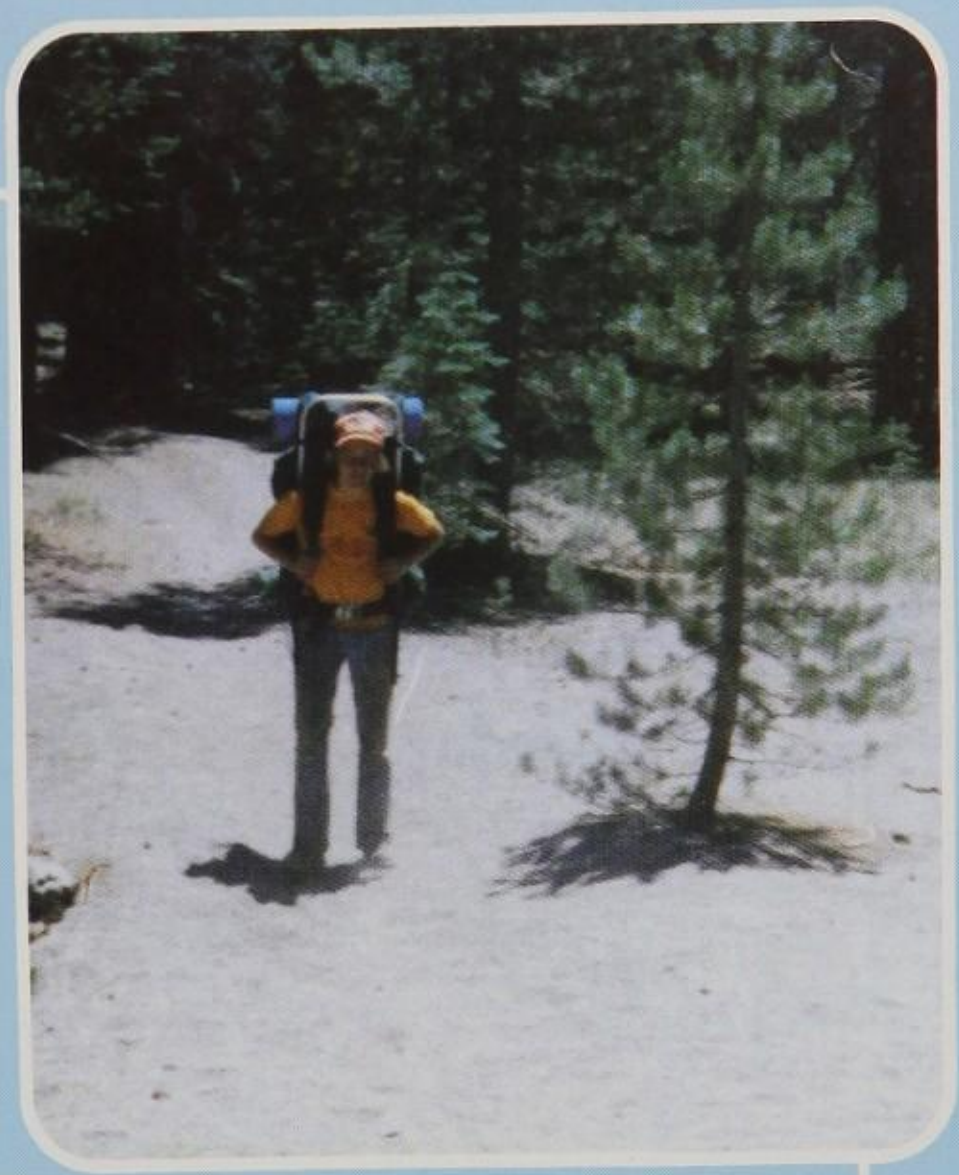
We See A Beautiful Day...

Good-bye To Limitations...

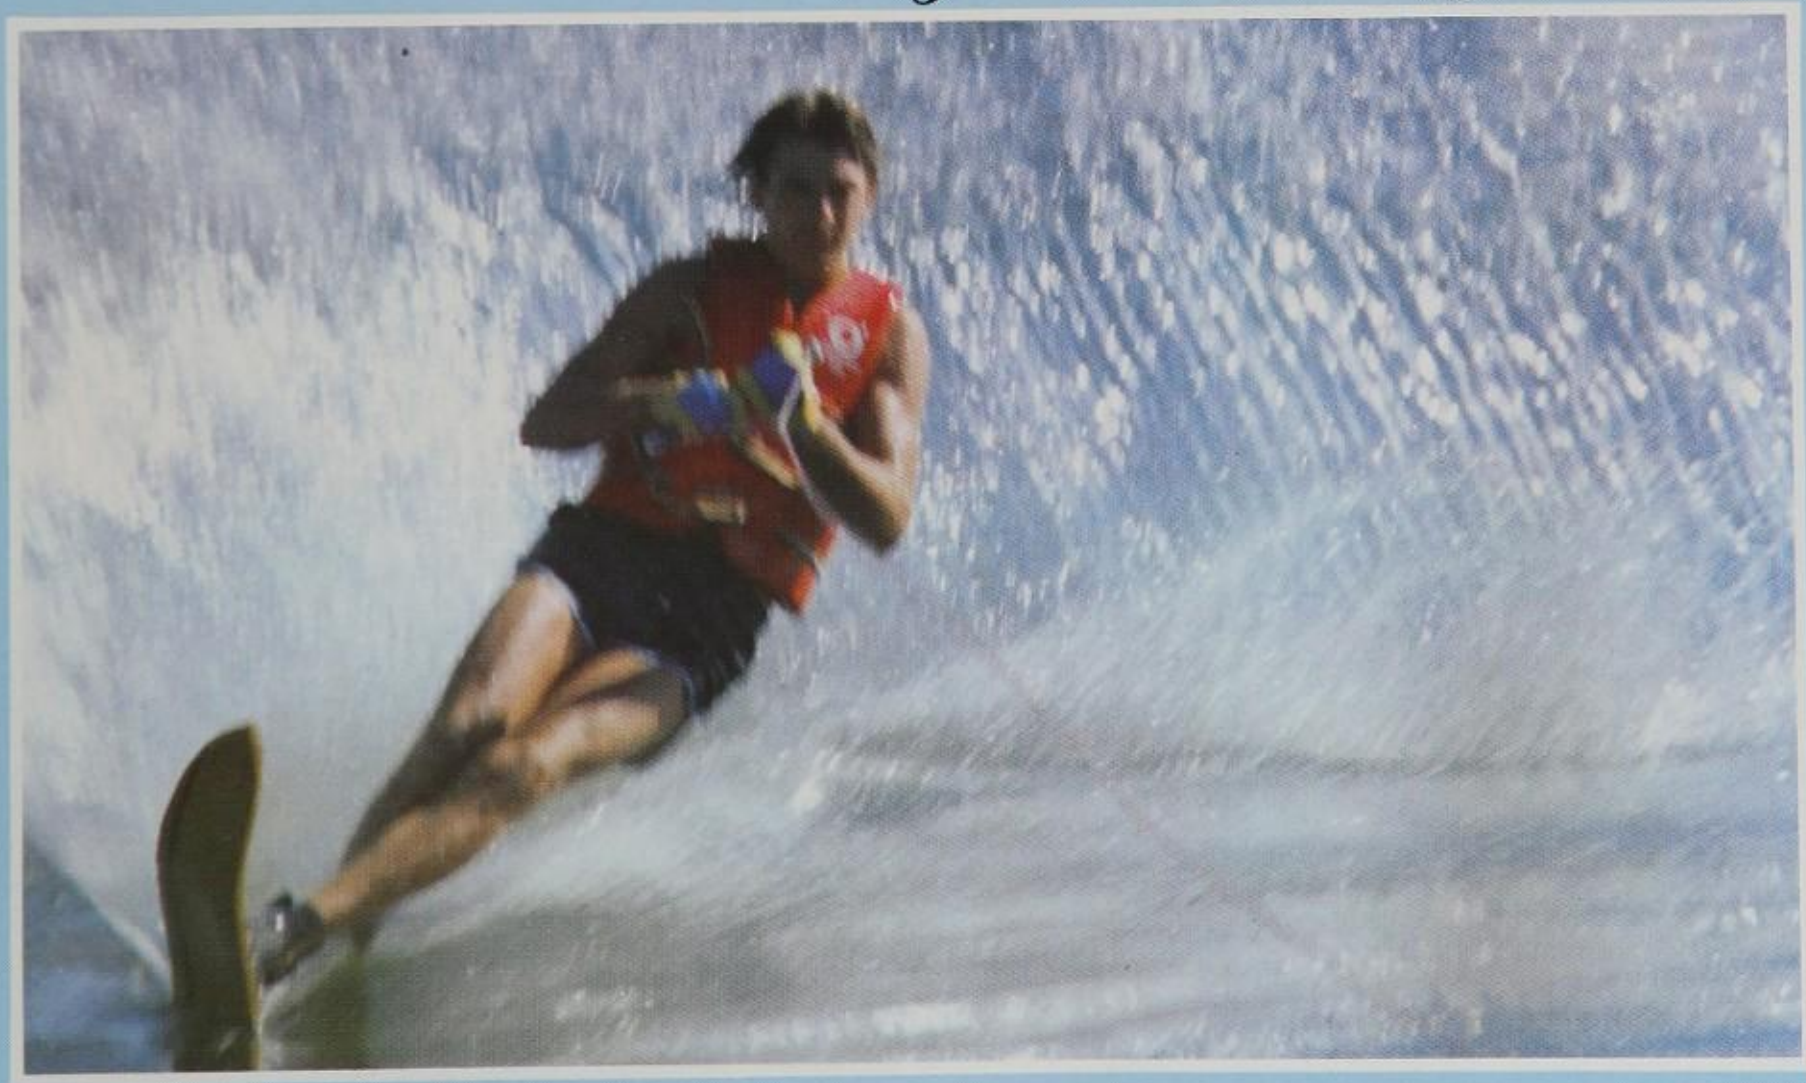




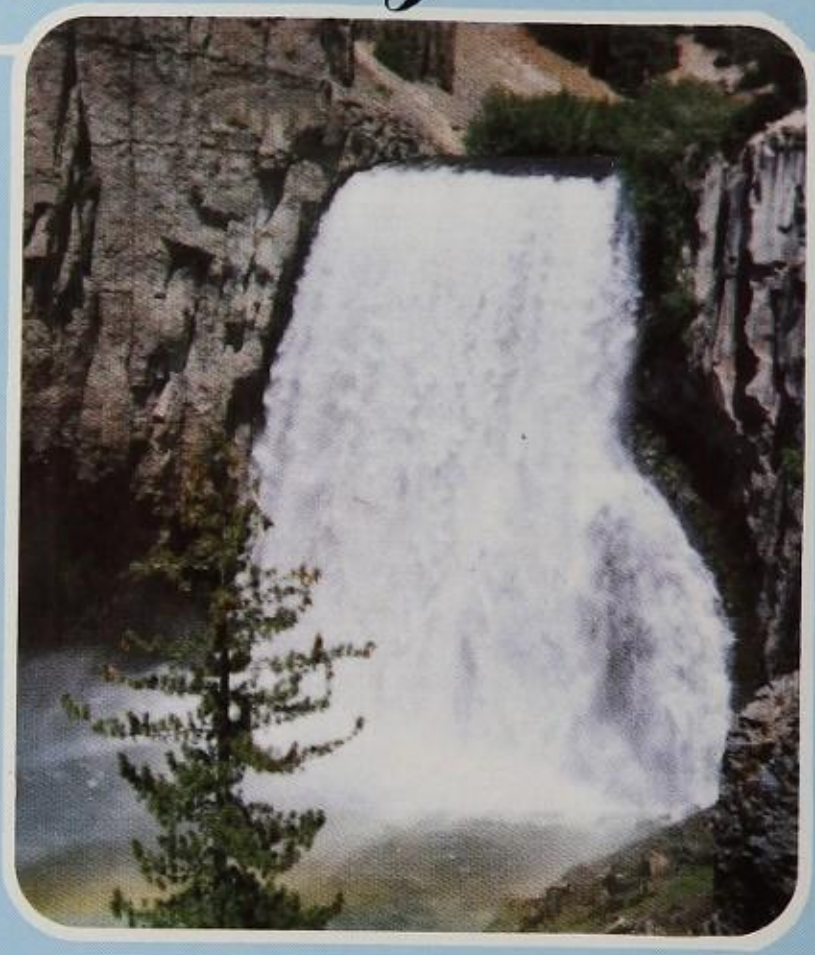


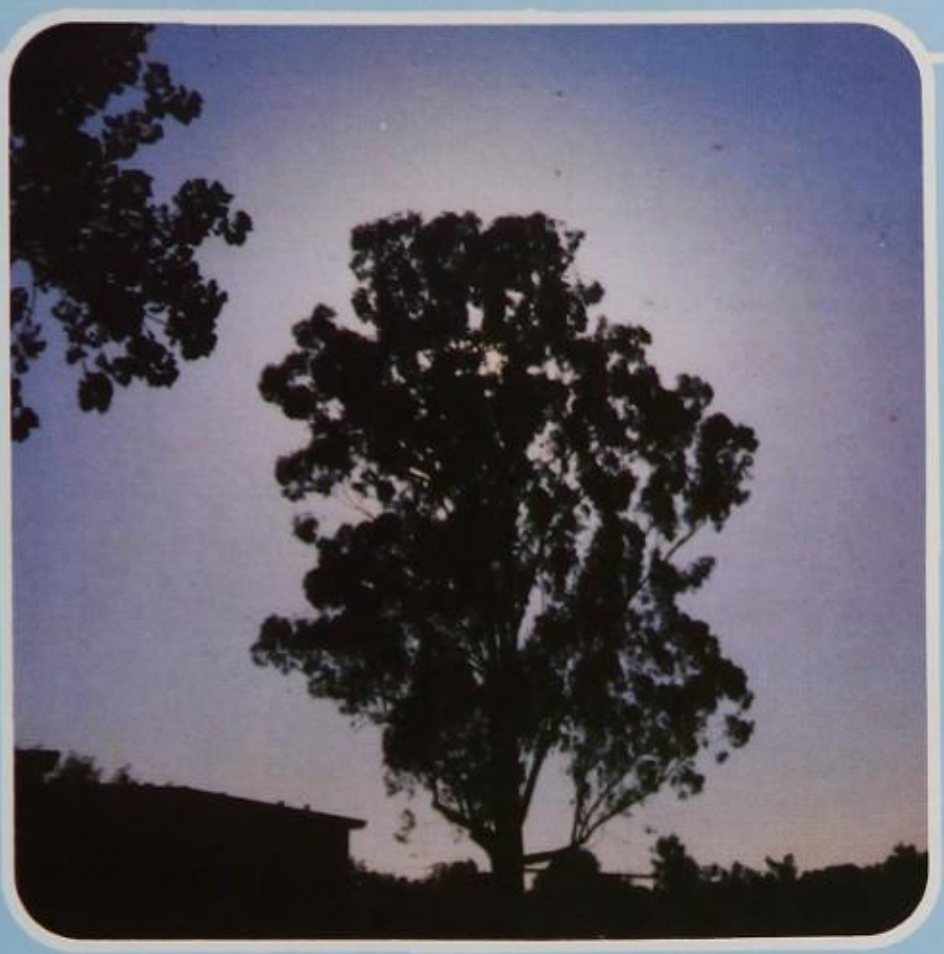


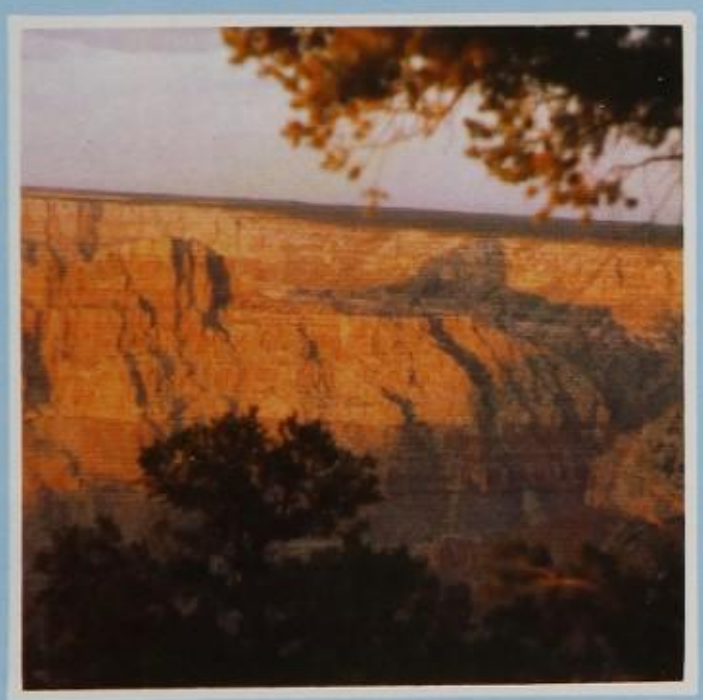
We Are Making Our Way ...

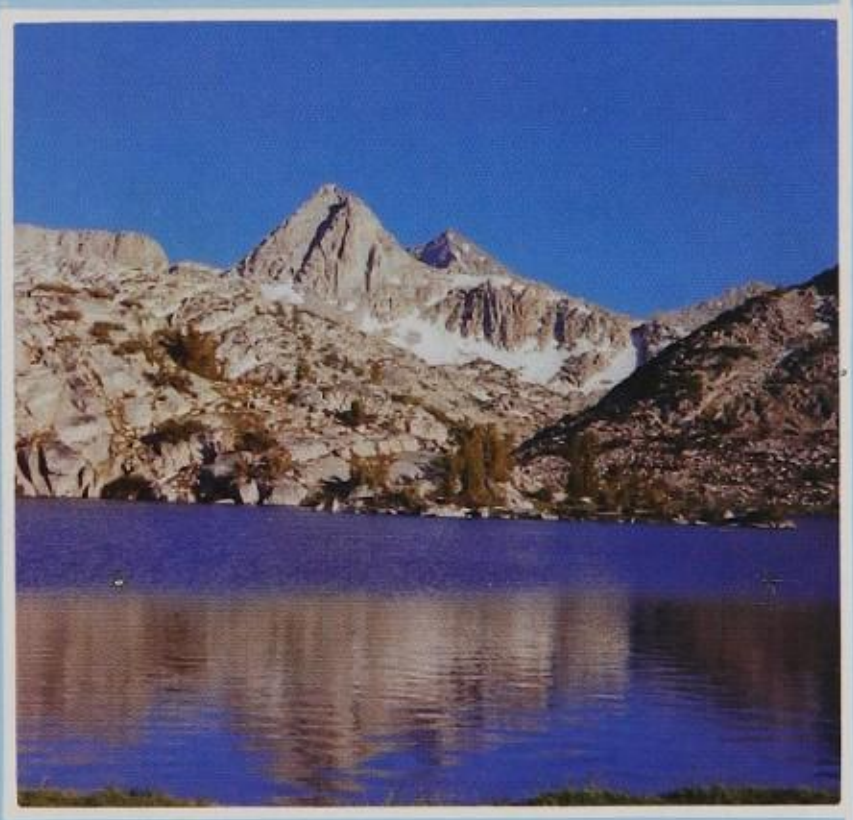


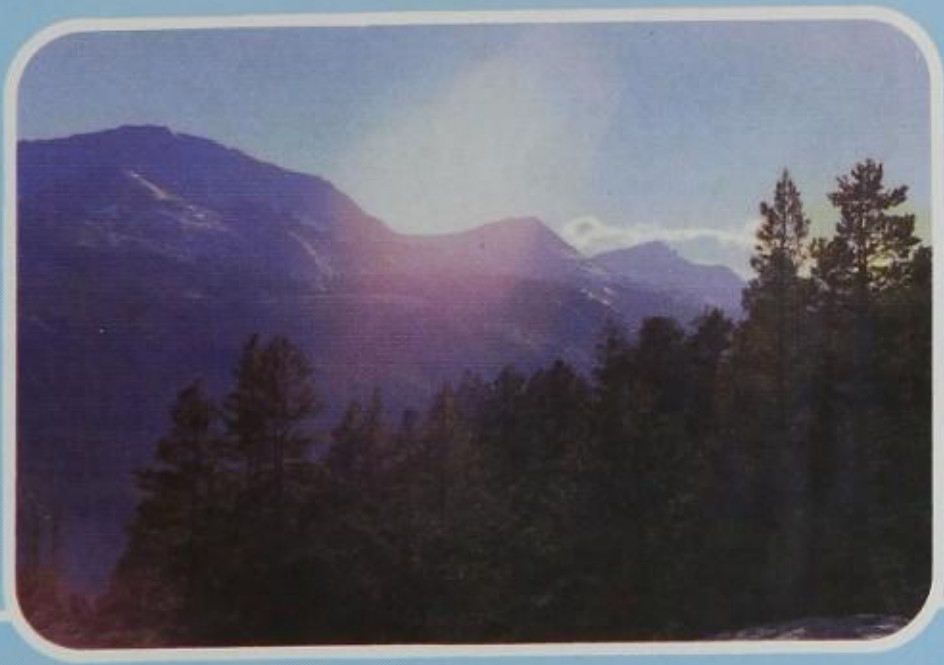
We See A New Horizon...







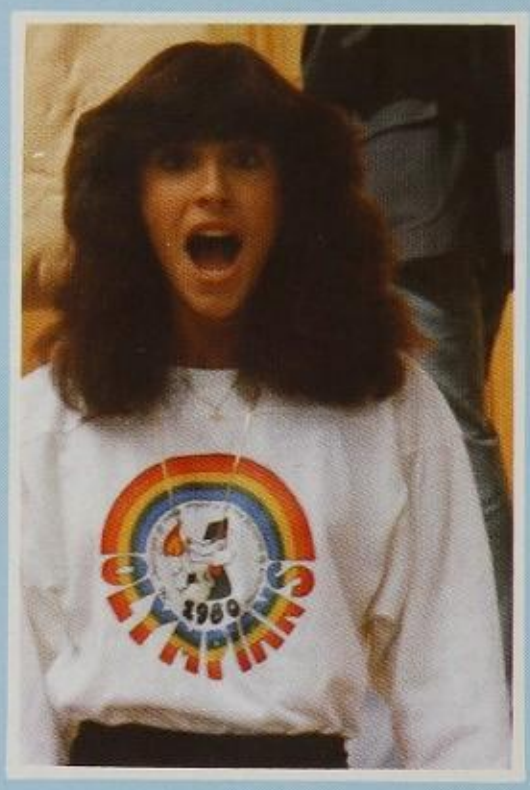


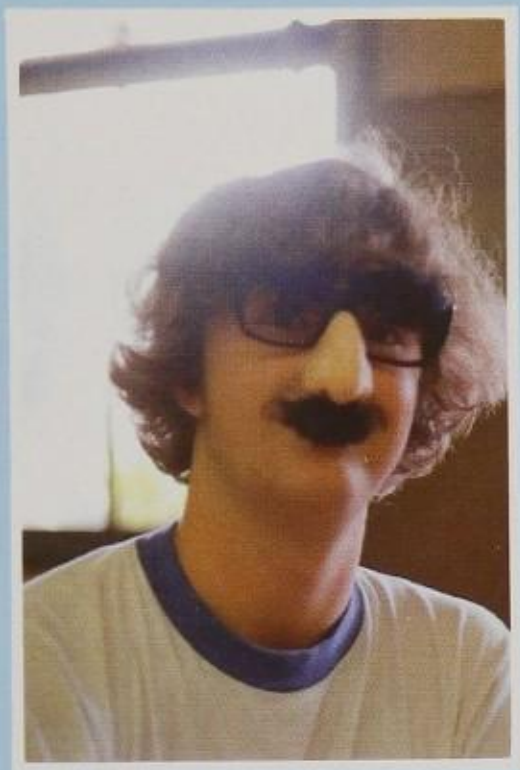


Our Lives Have Just Begun...

Beyond The New Horizon ...

The challenges of today prepare us for the victories of tomorrow





Awaits The Rising Sun!

To strive for our goals
Is all we can do;
We can change the world
Though we are so few.

The horizon is near
And well worth the wait;
We must follow through
And not hesitate.

Our path is the rainbow;
It will show us the way,
And the gold at the end
Is the bright shiny day.

So much we have learned;
So much left to see;
When high school does end,
We all will be free.

To live out our lives
And do what we may;
To strive for our goals
And meet each new day.

Homecoming Attracts Record Crowd

The Mighty Wolves hosted Chatsworth in the annual Homecoming game held on November 22, 1979.

The ceremony was witnessed by bleachers packed with people. The crowd roared with enthusiasm for the crowning of King Dave Russell and Queen Gina Frawley.

The Van Nuys bleachers have seldom held such a large crowd.

Ballet Folklorico

An annual presentation that has become a revered tradition at V.N.H.S. is the Ballet Folklorico performed on May 5th (the Cinco de Mayo).

Begun in the early 1970's this presentation of Mexican folk dancing and music continues to entertain and inform Van Nuys High School about the history and the culture of Mexico.

The Ballet Folklorico is a volunteer dance company sponsored by the V.N.H.S. Mecha CLA (Mexican-American, Latin-American) Club and composed of students willing to work long hours learning and practicing intricate dance steps for three months.

This year's Ballet Folklorico was another huge success. Hosted by the Mecha-CLA sponsor, Mr. Tony Delgado, the program presented the dances and music from different regions of Mexico for the students and local community in two special shows.

1. Hortencia Carmona displays her traditional dress for the Ballet Folklorico.
2. Jose Montes, Juan Garcia, and Miguel Angel Martinez wearing different outfits from regions in Mexico.

"History in Black"

"In 1926, Dr. Carter G. Woodson, a Harvard Ph.D., initiated Negro History Week so that contributions of Black Americans to the discovering, pioneering development and continuance of America would be recognized."

This statement, made by emcees John Earl and Harold Young, kicked off the first annual History In Black assembly held on March 6, 1980. Along with performers from our school, the audience was entertained by the Washington High School Band and Choir which performed at Superbowl XIV.

1. Marnita Pitre, Shirl Norwood, and Loretta Jones re-enact a scene from, "A Raisin in the Sun."
2. Carolyn Harris and Karen Pittman peform a "Dance In Black."
3. Karen Stringer recites Langston Hughes', "A Negro Mother."

Boys' Week Activities

Boys' Week, sponsored by Boys' League was held the week of March 3-7. Unfortunately, a few activities such as the athletic awards and the cheerleader lunch sales were rescheduled because of the rain. The activities that were actually held during Boys' Week were a karate demonstration and a frisbee toss.

Fashion Show

The event that will stand out in the minds of those who witnessed Girls' Week is the International Fashion Show.

Along with the many cultural costumes, the show displayed some fads of the seventies such as "punk" and "disco," along with some old favorites like western and contemporary wears, and a new display this year . . . ski wear!

1. Rita Sahakian models the latest in "punk" fashions.
2. Namyon Sohn displays a beautiful Korean dress.
3. Anne Norda prepares to "tackle the slopes."
4. Annette Filatreau models the western look.
5. Some other contestants display contemporary styles.

Van Nuy's Stars Dance to Heaven

"Stairway to Heaven" was the theme for this year's Winter Semi-Formal dance that lasted from 8:00 to midnight on February 29, 1980.

The dance featured the live band, "The Bachelors," playing arrangements from rock 'n roll to disco.

The turnout was so successful that it quickly inspired the students to arrange a spring dance.

The success of this dance was due to the great organization by the members of Student Council. Special thanks should also be given to the dance committee and the decoration committee headed by Matt Williamson and Christine Cho.

Campus Scenes

Along with the many organized activities held this year, the students enjoyed simply sitting around taking in the sun, watching the cheerleaders root us on to victory and participating in student exchange programs.

1. Billy Wheeler dreams of being a great football hero.
2. Mayor Tom Bradley speaks on contemporary issues.
3. Cheerleaders raise spirit in a Pep Rally.
4. Mr. Abreu enjoys a dance with the students.
5. Washington High School choir performs in the "History in Black" assembly.

Activity periods this year saw many guest speakers being hosted by Van Nuys High School. These guests included speakers from The March of Dimes organization, actors and, the highlight of one assembly, Mayor Tom Bradley.

The Mayor entertained many questions about nuclear power, the legalization of marijuana and other contemporary topics.

The appearance of the Mayor at V.N.H.S. was an event that will long be remembered.

The Boat and the Bird

The small boat sailing
along the ocean,
Alone,
Free,
Carefree.

A blue bird flying
along through the clouds, Graceful,
Smooth,
Floating.

The sails of the boat fight,
their way through the wind,
like birds wings push,
their way through the air,
both on an ever endless journey;
without a care in the world.

As the sun sets
the broad sky vanishes quickly, the small boat and the blue bird fade away along the horizon.

VIENTO

Las alas de mis sueños ya no existen, mi cupula de cristal se ha roto;
y el temporal me inunda.

El viento es fuerte y arrazador,
y mis pensamientos se elevan con el aire.

Hay una vela que se escama, y se quema,
rociando, se dulce cantar hirviente,
sobre mis manos heladas.

Palillos punzantes emergen,
de el profundo ziz-zageo que te lleva.

La casa vieja es abandonada, por mi madre y mis sueños.

Una guitarra palpita,
y sus cuerdas me elevan hasta el cielo.

Un vaso se rompe,
y su cristal se guebraja.

He sufrido el amargo desengaño,
de ser devorada,
por la sociedad de antano, y hogaño.

¡ Muero! y mi sed no se acaba.
Tan solo quedan mis recuerdos,
de mis sueños volátiles, e infantiles;
con los que he vivido, y muero.

THE STORM

Everything suddenly turned to grey;
The night transformed itself from day.

The animals felt the storm approach
The horses screamed upsetting the coach.

The lightning strikes, the thunder sounds
It stirs the clouds and shakes the grounds.

As fast as it came it soon passes on Peace is restored as soon as its gone.

FOR A FRIEND

These things you are to me:
A confidante, trusted with all my dark secrets.
A companion, we share so much more than time.
There is so much laughter
and confusion.
We have, moments of quiet thoughts and there is always wordless support.
You allow me, my hates and jealousies, my sorrows and joys, and loves and hurts.
I take you for granted, but always love you.
You have always been there,
where I needed you.
That is why, this is for you
With more love than I can say.

FORGOTTEN MEMORIES

The end is near and it is clear
It's too late to turn back.
Oh if I could, you know I would
But all is turning black.
The joy, the tears of all these years
They will forever be
And when I'm gone I'll be alone
With no one else but me.
But I'll survive; I'll stay alive
Because it's been done before.
I'll keep on growing and keep on going Until I'm ninety-four.
Then I'll be so old so I am told
I'll rest beneath the trees;
Then close my eyes and realize Forgotten Memories.

MY MIND

My mind is the only way out, I can hear, feel, touch and smell with it and I don't have to lock myself in my room.
But these past few days I haven't seen, felt or had feelings
but I don't care.
I'm my own state of mind and I hope I never return to what I was before.
These past days I have found its not my mind its myself;
I've grown older.
Growing up is so hard. Sometimes I would love to hide in a corner and stay there the rest of my life.
Then at that time there would be solid nothingness,
no fears, no tears, but just nothingness . . .
I know someday I will return to what I once was, myself, but in a way I don't want to.
For now I feel nothing, hear nothing, or see nothing, but I, I ask you the question, Does it really matter? . . .

The jagged mountains loomed up everywhere, and the mountain climber was staggered by the sight of the beautiful scene he was observing. Every mountain top had been covered by a beautiful white blanket of snow which had fallen the night before, and the cracks and crevasses looked as though they had innumerable stories to tell about the time that had passed. The trees which layered the base of the mountain looked like a fresh layer of grass which had been carefully groomed by mother nature with all her special love and care. As the mountain climber prepared to start his climb, he found it hard to believe that such a beautiful sight could be so deadly dangerous.

As the day dawns bright and my dreams cloud my mind,
My friend is far away and

Though I feel the pain in the dooms of darkness
Or is it the cold fingers of

The dreams of tomorrow and of yesterday
Will linger in me, and forever stay.

Although I know that I never can lie,
I want you to know that a dreamer am I.

The bushes located deep in the bowels of the dark, silent forest lay as a sleeping mink and glistened with their white coats of fallen snow. Located amongst their mighty brethren, the awesome lodgepole pines, in a clearing they resembled the bull Bison on the tundra of the Alaskan wastelands protecting their young. The overwhelming strength of the elders protecting their smaller charges from the elements and any enemies that might seek to destroy the quiet solitude of that frosty white world.

Toda mi esperanza se desataba;
como torbellino hirviente,
en un amor profundo; en mi amor Sin embargo, tu corazon pertenece

y tu mente, esta con "ella."
Si tan solo supieras, si tan solo vieras, las lagrimas amargas, que brotan;
de mis doloridos ojos;
dando paso a la locura
que me encierra.
Y ala desesperacion, que me invade;
por no poder amarte, besarte;
por no poder decir "te amo."
sin embargo, tu, ajeno a todo;
ries cada dia, sin saber que asi;
alegras un minuto de mi vida.

Of winds of ten blown fear of tomorrow
And lesser unknowns.

Life and the living
With a trace of neglect
Catching the names
We're trained to forget.

My own name forgotten
(As best as I can)
My life left behind
Shells in the sand.

Long songs and jackdaws
follow the sun
Strangers that pass
Another evening begun.

Life to be lived
Renounce all the words
Which spoken in friendship
Are never quite heard.

Face all the shadows
Which stand in your way
Fear not tomorro
Forget yesterday

Words spoken loudly
A trick of the trade
A light of the darkness
From which man is made

Watch the time burning
The edges which singe
My life stands behind me
A page in the wind.

THE FANTASY WORLD

The fantasy world I am traveling to Where birds fly above in the sky that is blue.
Smiles and laughs, tears fall of joy,
Love is felt for each girl and boy.
Here in this world where colors are bright,
Never lost in darkness, there always is light.
To keep all pure, the raindrops fall,
They nourish the trees which soon will grow tall.
There is always someone there to care,
Someone with whom joy you can share.
And when you're alone, you're never lonely
For here in this world, you're happy and free.
You can go anywhere, you can see any place,
You'll always see beauty; an angels face
Sit by the stream, hear the water run by,
So happy you are, your spirit is high.
With each new day the sun's warmth will rise,
The rays will reach down opening eyes,
The eyes will then follow the rays of the sun
And the beauty of living will just have begun!

Mia Laurence

A DISTANT VISITOR

It came one day down from the sky
This thing from nature, a butterfly.
It fluttered down so light and swift,
Like leaves in the wind when seasons shift.

Alighting on my finger, it told me a legend
Of a distant place, peaceful without end.
Then came the wind, bragging its freedom
With a gust of crisp air, fragrant of the season.

It took off with the wind, with no more to say,
And left me thinking of this land far away.
Then it vanished, to where I saw the last gleam,
I found myself awakening from a very nice dream.

Wolves Achieve Winning Season

This year's varsity football team finished the season with the number one offense among the valley teams, under the passing combination of Russell to Horodecky and the ever present rushing attack of Erin "Ivory" Griffin. The team saw many individual players honored. Bob Horodecky — All-city, Dave Russell and Dave Coldiron — All-Valley 2nd team, Mark Sedillo 1st team All-league, 2nd team All-league were Griffin, Frank Jamerson, Sam Slater, Craig Schiller, and Rudy Zavalani. The Wolves finished with a regular season record of 6-3 while losing in the first round of the playoffs.

"KILLER" BEE OPPONENTS PROVE TO BE TOUGH

The 1979 "Killer Bees" finished the season with a 3-6 record, but much more importantly they have 9 games of experience under their belt. The team was made up of freshmen and sophomores and often played against teams that started entirely juniors and seniors. The players used the same plays and were taught the same techniques as the varsity players. This idea of a football program will help the young players advance to the varsity level.

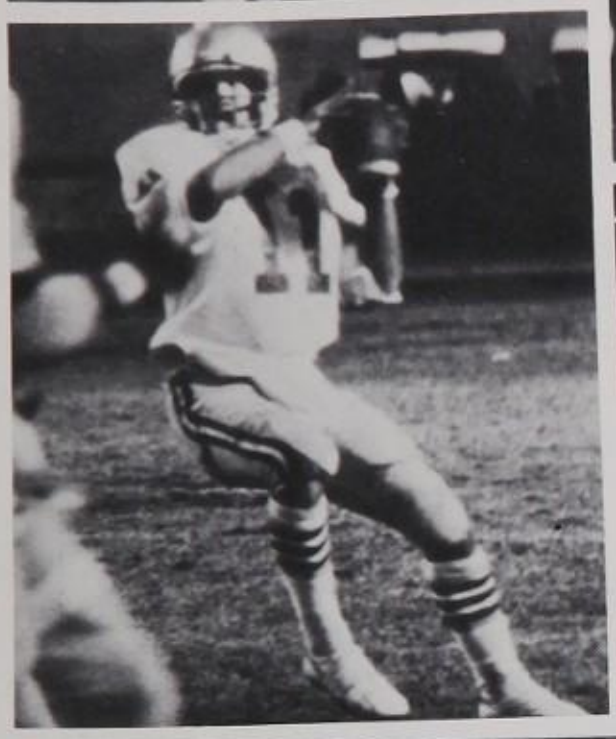
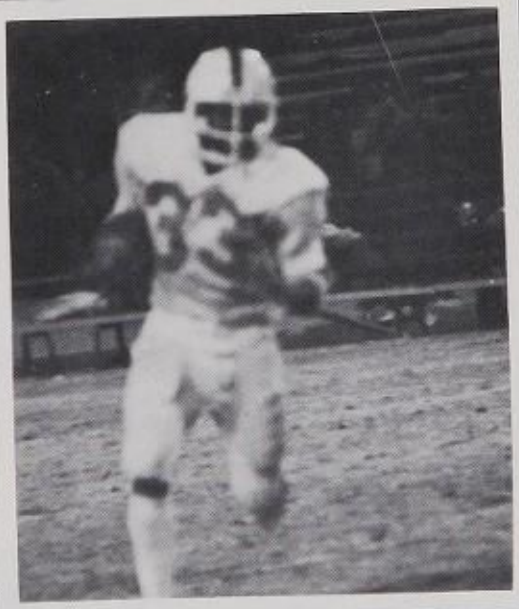
FOOTBALL FEVER





Cross Country Teams Set Records

Senior Tim Silva will leave Van Nuys holding the 11th and 12th grade, as well as the school record of 15:43. He set the school record in City Finals in which he placed 8th, finishing behind only one other valley runner. But, according to Javier Mejia, Tim won't hold them long. Mejia, just in 10th grade, who ran on the Varsity team this year, holds the 9th and 10th grade records and would like to go on and break all of Silva's. He led this years Frosh-Soph team to 2nd place in the Mid-Valley League.

Another record was also broken this year. Sophomore Wendy Wert shattered the girls' record of 16:00 by running a 14:44.

The Varsity team will lose Eric Barge and Tim Silva but, with Ben Blackwell, Steve Simons and Sophomore Javier Mejia the team is looking forward to good years ahead.

Wolves Pull It Together At The End

The Wolves once again made it to the city playoffs by placing fourth in the highly regarded Mid-Valley 4A league. The season began with their starters still involved in city football playoffs, and the team showed it by getting off to a slow start. But in the end the team pulled together and finished the season by playing very well. They were eliminated from the playoffs by the second ranked team in the city, Manual Arts.

The varsity team was led by senior Rudy Zavalani who turned in many outstanding individual games and was named to the Birmingham All-Tournament team and team in the Mid-Valley league. Jeff Lenik also made All-League second team with Greg Lowe receiving honorable mention.

BEE and CEE Basketball

The BEE and CEE basketball teams, coached by Eugene Michaelson won many important games and lost some close ones. Many games were determined by just a couple of points.

The Wolves had a year of rebuilding hopes with a team many considered too short. Many fine performances were turned in by John Keogh, Wendell Bowman, Ollie Simpson, Lionel Covington, and the Mid-Valley leading scorer J.P. Pak.

Varsity Nine Shows Winning Attitude

With the combination of varsity returnees Tim Coop, Gary Fiala, Hector Muneton and J.V. graduates Todd Mustin, Gradon Greenwood, Mike Friedman, Steve Barraza, Henry Campos, and John Davis, the 1980 baseball team completed a colorful season; all could be proud of the hustle, winning attitude and team spirit.

Inspired by the coaching efforts of Phil Saldivar, the team forged into each battle with renewed spirit. Backed up with veteran strength and youthful talent, the mighty Wolves entertained large crowds with exciting games.

Women's Volleyball: Victors in Their Own Way

The women's varsity volleyball team, under the direction of coach Alma Marshall, competed against many good teams this year, not always to come out as victors on the scoreboard, but as victors in the experience they gained and in the effort they gave. Returning varsity players are Rosemarie Sidon, Anne Hutchingson, and Susan Eigenbrodt. Former junior varsity players are Christine Jelloian and Cynthia Norton.

Seymour's Skimores — The purpose of Seymour's Skimores is to provide quality snow skiing at an affordable price. Since skiing is so popular, the club itself is very popular. They have to cater to many different budgets. Therefore, they check prices and locations and prices. It's simple; they make every attempt to make sure plenty of kids are able to go on the trips and every attempt to have a lot of fun. That's what Seymour's Skimores is all about — FUN.

Tears idle tears, I know not what they mean,
Tears from the depth of some devine despair
Rise in the heart, and gather to the eyes,
